Trio Paul Tiszai Joins Trio-Vision, LLC as West Coast Regional Sales Manager

May, 2018 Smyrna, Ga. – Trio Vision LLC, manufacturer and innovator of technology solutions for the wastewater market, is pleased to announce the addition of Paul Tiszai as its new West Coast Regional Manager.

“We’re really excited about Paul coming on board to help Trio-Vision expand its coverage in the Western United States,” says president Tom Schmandt. “Paul is a multi-decade veteran in the industry and his extensive expertise in cctv equipment service, support and sales will be an amazing asset to our customer base and Trio-Vision as we continue to grow.”

Tiszai has been involved in the pipeline inspection equipment industry for over two decades, witnessing its infancy of simple black and white push camera systems to the technically advanced systems that are on the market today. Prior to joining Trio-Vision, Tiszai held various management positions at SPX (formerly Pearpoint, Inc.) working his way up from a technician’s assistant position to management responsibilities in various departments such as production, service and sales.

He plans to utilize his vast knowledge and experience in the inspection market to create a consistent outstanding customer service and sales experience for his clients. “Providing excellent customer support and service is key to business relationships that will make or break you in this industry. My goal at TrioVision is to deliver the support our clients need along with quality, innovative products they can depend on to get the job done efficiency and effectively,” Tiszai relates.

Tiszai is married and the proud father of six children. When not serving his customers, he enjoys spending time with his , mountain biking and exploring the Southern California Desert region he calls home.
